- Players can pocket only their chosen color token. If the player pockets an opponent's carron men, they need to return it to the center of the board.
- For every carrommen pocketed, the player gets an extra turn.
- If a player commits a foul, they either lose their turn or have to return one carron men as a penalty to the board.
- If the player pockets the carron striker, it is a foul.
- The player commits a foul if they touch any piece in the Carron board other than the striker.
- It is a foul if the striker or any other carrommen leaves the board.
- The player can place the penalty carron men on top of other men within the main circle.
- If the carron men overlap with another carron men or land on end, leave them as it is until moved again in the normal course of play.
- If the striker rests under another carrommen, remove the sticker with as little disturbance to the covering carrommen as possible.
