Objective:

Students able to-

- To introduce NPTEL online courses to the university community.
- To highlight the advantages of integrating NPTEL courses into the university programme.
- To demonstrate how NPTEL courses can complement traditional classroom learning.
- To encourage students and faculty to enroll in NPTEL courses for continuous learning and skill enhancement.
- To provide guidance on accessing, enrolling, and successfully completing NPTEL courses.

Summary

The online awareness programme on NPTEL courses was conducted over a span of three months, from September to November 2021. It included a mix of webinars, workshops, guest lectures, and interactive sessions aimed at informing and encouraging the university community to leverage NPTEL's resources. The programme was well-attended, with active participation from both students and faculty members.

Methodology

Introduction Session:

1. An initial online webinar introducing NPTEL, its objectives, and its offerings.
2. Overview of the various courses available through NPTEL, categorized by discipline.

Workshops:

1. A series of online workshops demonstrating how to navigate the NPTEL platform, search for courses, and enroll.
2. Sessions on the benefits of NPTEL courses, such as flexibility, access to high-quality content, and certification.

Guest Lectures and Testimonials

1. Inviting guest lecturers and successful NPTEL course completers to share their experiences.
2. Case studies highlighting how NPTEL courses have positively impacted careers and academic performance.

Interactive Q&A Sessions:

1. Regular online Q&A sessions to address queries and concerns from students and faculty.
2. Personalized guidance on selecting courses relevant to their academic and career goals.

Feedback and Follow-Up:

1. Collecting feedback through online surveys to understand the effectiveness of the awareness programme.
2. Providing continuous support and updates on new courses and opportunities through email newsletters and social media.

Outcome

The session was highly beneficial for the students, achieving the following outcomes:

- Students reported improved understanding of complex subjects and better academic performance.
- Faculty members found NPTEL courses to be valuable resources for supplementing their teaching materials.
- Positive feedback from participants regarding the quality of NPTEL courses and the support provided during the awareness programme.
- Requests for more advanced workshops and guidance on specific course selections.

Conclusion

The awareness programme on the role of NPTEL online courses in the university programme was successful in achieving its objectives. The initiative led to increased awareness, higher enrollment, and enhanced learning outcomes for students and faculty. By integrating NPTEL courses into the university curriculum, the institution has taken a significant step towards providing high-quality, flexible, and accessible education to its community. Future recommendations include conducting periodic follow-up sessions to ensure sustained engagement and exploring collaborations with NPTEL for customized course offerings.
